9. FY2022-2031 CIP: Review of Recommended Capital Improvement Program (CIP) for FY 2022 – FY 2031 WS 21-025

Staff report submitted by Director of Public Works Ameri dated May 18, 2021, was filed.

REMOTE PARTICIPATION

Public Works Director Ameri announced the report, noted the Capital Improvement Program (CIP) had historically been designed in a printable format and this year City staff had developed an online format which provides staff the ability to share additional information about projects, and introduced Management Analyst Kaitlyn Byrne who provided a tour of the new online CIP and provided a synopsis of the recommended CIP for FY 2022-FY 2031.

Mayor Halliday opened the public comment section at 8:10 p.m.

Mr. Zachariah Oquenda, Planning Commissioner, wanted to elevate a comment made by fellow Planning Commissioner Bonilla regarding finding ways to better prioritize emergency and disaster recovery and resiliency funding as Hayward is on an earthquake fault zone.

Ms. Vanessa Sadsad was allowed to speak but yielded her time.

Mayor Halliday closed the public hearing at 8:14 p.m.

Members of the City Council thanked City staff for the presentation of the CIP and commended staff on the migration to the online platform.

Discussion ensued among members of the City Council and City staff regarding: employee engagement surveys; data storage policy for dash cams; funding allocation for sidewalks and ramps repair and usage of Measure B/BB funds; possible modification to projects taking a geographic equity approach including adequate input from residents, businesses and Council; needs assessment for City facilities that were not included in the CIP budget; safe routes for seniors; different equipment and funding for divisions at the Hayward Police Department (HPD); and cast iron water/sewer pipes replaced based on location with PVC pipe or ductile iron pipe.

Members of the City Council had the following recommendations: increase funding for emergency relief; provide more information about data storage policy for dash cams when the item is presented to Council; prioritize nonlethal equipment; provide a memo listing City buildings that were not funded for the needs assessment should there be stimulus funding available; continue to prioritize intersections and safe routes for seniors as a part of the Main Street project; emergency preparedness and dedicated water and sewer funding for immediate emergency response; prioritize emergency services; invest in information technology efforts; consider renaming the High-Speed Hayward project due to its association with traffic speeding; and it was stated that there will be grant opportunities to fill unfunded needs.

Mayor Halliday noted the CIP item was scheduled to return for adoption on June 1, 2021.

Public Works Director Ameri acknowledged Management Analyst Byrne and Management Analyst Lo for being instrumental and creative in preparing the CIP budget and launching the online platform.

Mayor Halliday opened the public hearing at 9:50 p.m.

Dr. Ricardo Prada, Public Safety Policy Innovation Workshop member, shared that participants did not have enough time to make informed recommendations, had concerns about representativeness of participants in interview sample, did not think the workshop addressed issues in the survey, did not agree the lean innovation method was applicable to public safety, did not think recommendations reflect everyone's views, and preferred to have more participants with expertise about proven programs.

Mr. Zachariah Oquenda, community participant in the process, noted they were not able to address de-escalation for domestic violence calls, added the evaluation of the Community Advisory Panel needs to be elevated, noted there are successful programs that should be prioritized, and suggested the Mobile Mental Health Response Team project be in the Fire Department.

Ms. Elisha Crader, Hayward resident and HayCoCoa member, noted the Public Safety Policy Innovation group was biased and did not include community members impacted by police violence; and reiterated Hayward Community Coalition (HayCoCoa) demands: fund a mental health crisis response team, move the 911 call center away from HPD, double the funds for homelessness and housing affordability, and create a social services department.

Ms. Claire Dugan, Hayward Concerned Citizens (HCC) member, spoke in support of mental health and homelessness projects that emerged from Public Safety Policy Innovation workshops, did not support policy change to defund HPD, and spoke about the need and right of community members to have HPD services to deter crime and have safe streets.

Ms. Cynthia Nunes stated Decarcerate Alameda County has been working on adopting the Care First Resolution to end mental health crisis and invited the City Manager to email her because she works for them; and reiterated HayCoCoa's budget demands.

Ms. Vanessa Sadsad stated HayCoCoa's demands are common sense reform and noted she would like to hear Council Member's proposals to reduce the HPD budget and funding alternatives.

Ms. Artavia Berry spoke about the murder of George Floyd and observed eight seconds of silence in honor of him, noted the Community Services Commission provided a list of recommendations in 2020 to show action in the commitment to the community; and asked for continuous learning and feedback including more outreach to Black organizations and churches, culturally relevant mental health services, increased training in de-escalation for officers to match hours of arms training, and ban deadly force.

Ms. Selina McManus thanked City staff and all participants, thanked Council Member Andrews for bringing up MH First (Mental Health First), suggested against filling the 23 police officer vacancies, and asked to fund community services.

TJ, Hayward Concerned Citizens member, read a statement from a fellow HCC member stating that if HPD is defunded the public will try to take policing into their own hands and unarmed and untrained civilians should not risk their lives; and noted the workshop is the first step, but funds diverted from HPD will hurt the needs that increase accountability.

Ms. Lizzy, Hayward resident, noted her disappointment indicating they were in the same place as one year ago, noted the reason for the conversation was the individuals killed by police officers and added HPD is still using nearly fifty percent of the City budget.

Ms. Lacei Amodei, community organizer, spoke in support of HayCoCoo's budget demands, supported a mental health first responders crisis team, noted the Public Safety Policy Innovation team did not garner community input policies and did not have subject matter experts, and asked that Dr. Prada's comments be considered.

Ms. Vanessa Cuellar did not support the proposed projects emerging from the workshops, added there should be a better way to do community outreach, urged to consider housing services in the Fire Department, and agreed with the suggestion of a third-party system for complaints.

Mr. Tom Ferreira, Hayward Concerned Citizens member, shared appreciation of HPD's service, added that many mental health services are addressed by CAT team through Measure A (2014) funds, and spoke against eliminating HPD services.

Mr. HWD indicated that vacant police officer positions need to be filled noting officers are responsive and usually successful and noted shutting down the HPD would ruin Hayward.

Ms. Kaur noted she is not a part of any organization but supports HayCoCoo demands, mentioned mental health service providers and police officers do not work together enough and mentioned problems often stem from issues officers are not trained to address.

Mr. Frank Burton, retired licensed therapist, noted the mental health response team should be in the Fire Department, added the dispatch team needs additional training, and mentioned the Community Advisory Panel has been underutilized and the Public Safety Policy Innovation group has been more effective.

Mayor Halliday closed the public hearing at 10:33 p.m.

Members of the City Council thanked the Public Safety Policy Innovation Workshop team, community members, and City staff who participated in various workshop discussions.

Council Member Salinas appreciated the different disciplines of the Public Safety Policy Innovation Workshop team, noted he will follow up with staff on Dr. Prada's opinions, was pleased that recommendations came from the community and the organization, noted recommendations consider existing programs as well as new models on mental health service delivery and how to measure accountability, mentioned there was consideration of a sales tax to garner sustained funding, and was pleased in the investment placed on mental health at federal, state, and local levels. Council Member Salinas made a motion to approve staff's recommendation.

Council Member Zermeño seconded the motion.

Council Member Zermeño noted the workshops provided an opportunity for a partnership between the City and community; supported the three categories of new public safety response models and services, community relationships, and transparency and accountability; suggested staff consider a system of metrics and measurements; and noted the recommendation was missing funding for additional cameras in areas where there is illegal activity.

Council Member Wahab indicated she supported the first six projects recommended for immediate implementation, was fine with Project 8 (Neighborhood Participatory Budgeting) but projects 7 and 9 through 25 needed significant work; was hesitant to approve and fund items that are not fully vetted; noted the City may need a whistleblower hotline that goes to Council's three appointed officers for a higher level of oversight; noted community input should be available to Council on a quarterly basis to gauge programs' success; recommended the CAHOOTS (Crisis Assistance Helping Out on The Streets) model and hiring a consultant from the CAHOOTS' team; asked that mental health clinicians report directly into the Fire Department; noted social media internships are important but not a priority; and indicated the industry of policing has not addressed community members' concerns.

Council Member Lamnin noted she would like the dispatch needs assessment and capacity improvement move faster but understands the insights needed such as certifications to enable them and how to interface with the 2-1-1 system; added the legislative component needs to be added to the work plan; noted the need for flexible funds for mental health response such as housing, food, and transportation; stressed the importance of having a culturally competent team; hoped intern students spend time with dispatch, City Attorney's office, Mayor and Council offices as they help shape policy; recommended opportunities for reverse ride-alongs where officers can learn from community perspectives; and added there was value in having an outside complaint liaison and noted that funding for the position could be considered during the adoption of the budget on June 1, 2021.

Council Member Andrews indicated she understands being methodical in making changes but she thought the City could have shown the community a good faith effort as projects were evaluated; noted the survey demonstrated the community wanted a 3-1-1 option and it should be expedited as an alternative to 9-1-1; hoped CAHOOTS could be a resource but did not want to delay implementation of a mental health response by continuing to research; noted there should be a community ambassador representing areas in the community; was glad there was a review of the CAP program and looked forward to seeing results; noted a complaint liaison should be more accessible to the community; and was disappointed to see a decrease to the budget for crime investigation.

Council Member Márquez noted the goal with the policy decisions was trying to keep everyone safe and HPD respond to an incident with the goal of minimizing threat rather than being reactionary and eliminating; noted the City has to work within parameters of state law and labor contracts; indicated she supported the first nine proposed projects recommended for implementation within the next six months and swapping Law Enforcement Community Internships (Project 7) with Community Feedback/Complaint Liaison (Project 17) noting the community needs to know that they have a way to share concerns as well as positive feedback; and agreed with comments of moving mental health services under the Fire Department as a pilot.

Council Member Márquez offered a friendly amendment to swap Project 7 with Project 17 with a caveat that the mental health response team report to the Fire Department.

City Manager McAdoo noted the Fire Chief with YFSB Administrator would oversee the Mobile Mental Health Response Team and Dr. Emily Young would be reporting to the Fire Chief for pilot projects.

Council Members Salinas and Council Member Zermeño accepted the friendly amendment to swap Project 7 with Project 17.

Mayor Halliday noted that implementing changes is not just about where the money is allocated but it is about how the community is supported; added that mutual respect is key and a fundamental principle; added the path will ultimately focus on more effective policing; added the work should focus on more education for the community around available mental health resources; agreed to have a homepage for mental health resources; added the Fire Department should play a strong role in providing services; supported a plan for a Restorative/Transformative Justice public safety model and to transform the Community Advisory Panel into something stronger and more community-based.

Council Member Andrews offered a friendly amendment to expedite a mental health resources webpage. City Manager McAdoo noted the City could leverage resources.

Council Members Salinas and Council Member Zermeño accepted the friendly amendment.

Council Member Wahab noted she looked forward to the projects addressing mental health and housing issues; and noted her biggest concern is for HPD to address, investigate, and solve crimes.

Mayor Halliday noted that what has been done in the last year has been caring for the community and noted the City was working towards accomplishing goals.

It was moved by Council Member Salinas, seconded by Council Member Zermeño, and carried by the following roll call vote, to approve the resolution with two amendments: (1) swap Project 7 (Law Enforcement Community Internship) with Project 17 (Community Feedback/Complaint Liaison); and (2) create a webpage for mental health resources.
